Accordingly, students, parents, guardians and members of the public are advised to verify the following before taking admission or making any academic or financial commitment:

3. Statutory and regulatory approvals: Whether the requisite recognition, approvals or permissions have been obtained from the UGC and other concerned statutory or regulatory authorities, wherever applicable.

4. Permissibility of the programme and mode of delivery: Whether the programme, mode of study and location of delivery, including distance education, online education, off-campus centres and study centres, are permitted under the applicable laws and regulations.
